"Make Them Lazy." Volunteers in the late Spanish war are not apt to have their pension claims adjusted for some time to come It is stated that the pension bureau will not be in any hurry to pass upon their applications, because "pensions for young men are apt to make them lazy." At least this is the reason given for the bureau's delay in adjusting these cases by an attache of the bureau, who said: "They are just beginning to come in. I suppose they will come in rapidly soon, but it is too early for them yet. We are not pushing the Spanish war claims very fast. Most of the applicants are young men, and they do not need the pension very badly. Of course, they will get their pensions from the day their applications were filed, but we are in no hurry to grant them. It is a feeling at the pension bureau that it is not a good thing for the young men to draw pensions. It makes them lazy, and it is not good for them morally."

Regarding the number of applications being made, the attache said: "The bureau has already on file 30,-000 applications, and they are still coming in. Over 50 per cent of the members of the District of Columbia regiment have filed applications for

The reply, after some hesitation, was as follows: "Well, colonel, it was just this way: I am the worst coward on earth, and I started to run, and I intended to keep on running till I got home, but all of a sudden the face of a little girl rose before me, and when I saw her eyes I knew I just had to fight, and then I waded in and did my best."-Saturday Evening Post.

French Service of 25 Years.

The first thing that distinguished the army of France from all others is its character of microcosm of the whole nation, says Paul Bettelheim in the Nineteenth Century. All classes are represented, and every French soldier may hope some day to wield the marshal's baton which he carries in his knapsack. In a recent letter from 5900 Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill., Mr. Moody says the following:

"Per over twenty-five years fiered from caterris, and for over ten years I suffered from catarra of the stomach terribly.

" I have taken all kinds of medi ines and have been treated be all kinds of doctors, as thousa of my acquaintances are aware in different parts of the United States, where I have traveled, but the relief was only temporary, until a little over a year age l started to take Peruna, and at the present time I am better than have been for twenty years.

"The soreness has left my stomach entirely and I am free from indigestion and dyspepsia and will say to all who are troubled with catarrh or stomach trouble of any kind, don't put it off and suffer. but begin to take Perune right away, and keep it up until you are cured, as you surely will be if you persevere."

"My wife, as many in the southwest can say, was troubled with a bad cough and bronchial trouble, and doctors all over the country gave her up to die. as they could do nothing more for her. She began taking Peruna with the rethat she is better now than she has been in years, and her cough has almost left her entirely. The soreness has left her lungs and she is as wel as she ever was in her life, with thanks, as she says, to Peruna. Yours T. P. Moody. Catarrh in its various forms is rap-
